Class Descriptions

Ashtanga

Ashtanga is an athletic flow combining strength, flexibility and endurance, which can be practiced by yogis of all levels, and is particularly accommodating to newer practitioners. Literally translated, “Ashtanga Yoga” means “eight-limbed yoga”, which is a powerful, healing practice. It is a specific sequence of postures (asanas) linking breath (pranayama) and movement (vinyasa). Students are introduced to Ashtanga yoga’s Sun Salutations and basic sequences for standing, sitting, supine and prone asanas, Practice always culminates with savasana, and deep relaxation meditation.

Barre Flow (45 minutes)

BarreFlow™ is designed to give students of all fitness levels a challenging total body workout. BarreFlow™ combines the flow of a vinyasa yoga class with the science of corrective exercise to create a complete workout for body and mind in only 60 minutes. All classes are at the same level as the technique is designed to work for people at all points on their fitness journey. Modifications and/or advancements are given for most exercises to accommodate all fitness levels. We focus on Integrated Movement - though there are times in our programming that isolation is called for, our general framework is built of movements that involve multiple joints and multiple muscles—often moving through more than one plane of motion. Integrative movement not only results in a higher calorie burn and greater muscle development but also stimulates more neuromuscular activity. By moving the body in multiple ways at once, we are able to improve coordination, balance, and performance and reduce the risk of injury.
